News From Your Town Hall

City employees of the Town of Belle Glade are doubling in their work during this man and womanpower shortage of war effort.

The water works demands close attention and long hours of all its employees, especially when the plant is running dangerously over capacity.

The office organization is also kept busy with the varied records, etc.

Duties as Town Clerk, clerk to the fire department—the two paid firemen, Sam Delaney and John Atkinson. Each of these boys has two caps, a fireman's cap and a policeman's cap. When they go off duty as policemen, they go off in the cap of a fireman, and vice versa. If they are on duty as firemen and policemen, they go off in the cap of a fireman, and vice versa. Mose And Wee Willie To Have Their Own Golf Tournament

Mose Mosely and Wee Willie Weeks have become disgusted at the lack of appreciation of their fellow golfers and the club management at not insuring them prize, so they have decided to conduct a two-man tournament this coming Sunday afternoon.

Because there is no prize provided for, and because their opponents in the tournament run by the Pro did not allow them to forget enough strokes through eliminating them, they've decided to provide their own prizes and have their own tour.

Billy has bought himself a new set of woods and claims he can drive the old 130 yards further than formerly.

This should be an interesting game to watch, especially if remarks from the gallery are allowed to go along with the match.

"Honored Hundred" And Trip To D. C. Won By M. Millar

Malcolm H. Millar, general manager of the Gold-Dobson Theatres, received official notification from Mr. Charles P. Skouras, national chairman of the Motion Picture Industry's War Activities Committee, New York City, that he was the "Honored Hundred," having won this coveted honor in competition with 15,000 theatre managers throughout the United States, Alaska and Hawaii.

Mr. Millar sold 1,176 individual War Bonds valued at $190,100.00, maturity 5-a-u-e, which gave him 261 percent in the contest.

He will go to Washington, according to the letter, May 9th, as a special advisor to the War Finance Division of the War Department, and will meet with Secretary Morgenthau, Mr. Theodore R. Gamble, and other ranking administrators of the nation's war-financing program.

New Veterans Need Aid Now Upchurch Says

Ocala, April 26.—With disabled and wounded veterans service men streaming homeward at the rate of 1,500 a month, there is an immediate need to veterans who are now, as well as in past wars, Frank D. Upchurch, candidate for governor, declared in a radio speech here.

"We already had more than 15,000 returned service men from this war in the state, many of whom are now being readjusted to civilian life," Upchurch said.

"Unless this is done many of the men who were called away from their regular employment and placed in the armed services will be unable to support their wives and children. I propose to do something about this now," Upchurch declared.

Upchurch, who served in the United States Marine Corps on foreign duty in the last war, has two sons in service now. One of them is a fighting pilot on duty in the Southwest Pacific and the other is an Army Air Force pilot.

"All of us agree that we must concentrate on winning this war," Upchurch said.

Voters To Fill 27 Public Jobs From 96 Seekers

War and Own Business Prevent the Candidates Arousing Enthusiasm

The voters of this community by their action will fill 27 of the 96 jobs to their governmental business and the choice must be made from a list of 14 women and 84 men.

Nine of the jobs are untested, and the remaining 20 jobs have 76 applicants appealing to the "deer people" for their vote.

The national democratic committee and women and the delegates to the national convention are the least active of the entire field.

The Senatorial race has become acrimonious at times with the injection of the "nigger" question, charge of slush funds, sticky asphalt deals, trial balloons, etc.

The past week has been playing havoc with the cabbage and celery, and hasn't done the beans much good as they were already beaten down by the long drought.

Prices for beans and cabbage are good for good quality. The quality hasn't been too good. Celery prices are strengthening a bit, and fair prices are received for quality celery.

A quality is affected by the extremely hot weather. Over 50 percent of the shipment for the week was beat with a total of 342 cars, with celery accounting for 160 cars.

Mrs. W. P. Hill Succumbs To Long Illness, Wednesday

Mrs. Dorris (W. P.) Hill died at the St. Mary's Hospital Wednesday night, April 27th, following a siege of illness of more than a year.

Mrs. Hill came to Belle Glade approximately eight years ago with her husband and family. Born in Illinois, Mrs. Hill resided in Miami 15 years before coming to the Glades. Her mother, Mrs. Elissa Stevens, is a resident of Miami and two brothers are in the armed forces.

Besides her husband, a rancher, she is survived by three children, William P. Jr., Betty Ann and Howard.

The funeral services will be held at the Community Methodist Church at 11 a. m., Friday (Continued On Page Four)

637 Solid Cars Left The Glades During The Week

Florida's Vegetable Committee Spokesmen At Effective Meeting

Lions Club Sponsors Veneer Clinic Here

President Frank Dooley has appointed Howard Hancy and Mose Mosley as a committee to devise plans and procedure to provide a room or building in which a veneer clinic will be held for those who are not eligible under the migratory farm labor classification.

Dr. Sondag, State Board of Health Director of General Disease cure and prevention, talked to the Lions on Wednesday on the work of the State and Federal governments to eradicate one of "Florida's Firsts"—first in percentage of population infected with venereal disease.

This state, according to Dr. Sondag, has a 40 percent infection of its colored inhabitants and a 10 percent of its white. Selective Service records are that 171,000 of every 1,000 examined have been turned down by the army for this disease.

This figure has been decreased considerably since Pearl Harbor, but to the activities against venereal disease.

There are funds provided for the treatment of those who do not come under the migratory farm labor classification, but there is no provision for a building. So, the Lions are undertaking to assure the community and its fellow workers a place where treatments may be given.

Dr. Dipasche of the U. S. Public Health Service will be assigned to the Glades to assist in giving the treatments if a place is provided.

"Right-To-Work" Is Watson's Theme

Tallahassee.—Attorney General T. Tom Watson, campaigning for re-election, declared that Florida's proposed "right-to-work" amendment specifically preserves collective bargaining between employers and workers.

The closed shop, said Watson, "has been used to the detriment of employees and employers and the public," benefiting only a few who live off its financial terms.

Three steps must be taken before an applicant can get a job under the closed shop in a plant where the National Labor Relations Board has ruled that the union is not the majority, the attorney general said.

"First, the okay of the business agent for him to file an application for membership in the union; second, the union agreeing to take him if he pays the fee, and, third, his payment of the fee."

But even his admission to the union upon payment of the fee did not guarantee his right to work. Watson said he failed to pay future assessments or fines would bring his discharge.

Second: Impose the price ceiling on raw materials, but free retail prices if they get too high.

Third: Establish a maximum ceiling at the consumer level—only high enough to permit to be heard of any watermelon disaster, yet not high enough to be inflationary.

In support of this position with these plans that maximum mark-ups be set for both distributors and retailers, but that these mark-ups be realistic—not so tight that they would put the "squeeze" on the producer.

Following a ten-day postponement of a proposed price ceiling on watermelons at the request of W. W. Lins, Florida Vegetable Committee chairman, OPA officials met with watermelon growers at Atlanta Saturday, and agreed that any watermelon price ceiling "would not be in process for several weeks," Lee Jackson, of the food pricing division of OPA at Washington, further declared that before any ceiling would be decided upon, the industry would have opportunity to be heard at a contemplated meeting early in May at Washington.

KEEP BREAD WAGON ROLLING
Our legislators can pass laws providing subsidies, farm relief, price ceilings, production control, etc., etc., to hold down food costs. They can provide rationing, red, white and blue food stamps, and plastic tokens. But what makes them all work? The grocery store.

Only as long as the grocery store can make enough profit to stay in business, will the farmers and the food processors be able to keep their wheels turning smoothly. When some bright boy in the Washington law factory cracks down on the grocer, he cracks down hardest on the producer and the consumer.

Retail distribution has been brought to a state of perfection under the mass distribution technique of the chain stores, and that technique has been adopted almost bodily by the independents. The result is that before the war the consumer could get virtually anything in the food line in practically every town and village in the United States.

Modern mass retailers of food might well be called the bull in the china shop of the food business. Regulators can easily ruin the bearings with faulty lubricants (rules and regulations), thereby causing a wastage of food on farms in warehouses, by preventing retail distribution to consumers.

PULLING TOGETHER
No industry is proceeding more scientifically to readjust from a war to a peace basis than is aviation. Level heads are seeking to coordinate its activities so that it can render the greatest possible service in its field of transportation.

While the public generally thinks of passengers and mail as the principal airline load, the Railway Express Agency has been conducting exhaustive customer surveys in order to keep ahead of the demands for increased air express service. The Agency became interested in the possibilities of commercial air transport as early as 1919. In 1927, it inaugurated its Air Express Division, giving scheduled air service across the nation. From 1933 to 1943, inclusive, the weight of its air express shipments increased from 404,640 pounds to 31,066,414 pounds.

Thus again do we see American enterprise increasing its field of activity and preparing to meet service demands that arise almost overnight.

GETTING RESULTS

One man who went into government war service and isn't afraid to tell the public his department got results, is William M. Jeffers, president of the Union Pacific Railroad, and former director of the synthetic rubber program.

In a recent statement, Mr. Jeffers said synthetic rubber is now about on schedule; absolutely essential civilian need are being met; by early autumn more rubber should be going into tires; we can produce enough synthetic rubber for any needs, and will be in the position in the future to dictate to producers of natural rubber what the price shall be.

This is good news for Americans who have been used to a prediction of "shortage" the moment bureaucratic planners take control of any of our basic industries. But that is the bureaucrats' way — they want to keep the people under their thumbs. Jeffers is not a bureaucrat—he is a plain American business man who is used to getting results. He says: "We don't want the government in business. We want business in government."

And that is the only spirit that will get this nation tires or any other commodity that the people have always enjoyed and which built up the American standard of living.

COACH BROWNING

far better equipped to meet life than the boy who knows nothing except victory.

I can rightfully commend the attitudes of boys who have continued to participate and have learned how to be a good loser. I know that it is tough on a boy to be on a losing team and our past football season of ten losses can only reflect hard-earned, deserving merit on the part of the boys who stuck through the last game. Those boys have learned one valuable lesson — how to "take it" and go back for more.

At least, I am confident that your son has received the best physical training according to military and state physical fitness regulations that have been given with any ability to direct. A full and complete competitive sports program was carried out this year despite war-time obstacles which have had the outlook very grim. We engaged in ten football contests; we had 14 basketball contests and won 6; we have had spring football training; we are having diamond ball; we have had military drill; may be my privilege to extend

After June 1, business plans, associating me with Shaw Brothers Oil Company of which Mayor J. K. "We can't argue with the Judge on that point, can we? It's not fair to penalize the many for the actions of the few."
"That, folks, is exactly what we're doing in this country if we ever voted for prohibition again. Authorities who have made a careful study of the problem, report that only about 5% of those who drink abuse the privilege occasionally... 95% drink sensibly. Probably doesn't compare with the number of folks who overeat and do other things to excess. Prohibition certainly isn't the answer. It's not that simple. We had nearly 14 years proof of that, didn't we?"
"The real answer is education and better control. In fact, the responsible members of the distilling industry are working constantly toward that end. They don't want anybody to abuse the use of their product any more than the three of us do."
"If everybody would take that sensible attitude, folks, and cooperate as men and more are now doing, we'd be a lot better off a lot quicker."

As Your JUDGE OF THE CRIMINAL COURT
Elected a man whose honesty and reputation for fair dealing is well recognized.
Speaks Friday, April 28th, WJNO-7-45 P. M.
(Paid Notice: Advertisement.)

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...
"We can't argue with the Judge on that point, can we? It's not fair to penalize the many for the actions of the few."
"That, folks, is exactly what we're doing in this country if we ever voted for prohibition again. Authorities who have made a careful study of the problem, report that only about 5% of those who drink abuse the privilege occasionally... 95% drink sensibly. Probably doesn't compare with the number of folks who overeat and do other things to excess. Prohibition certainly isn't the answer. It's not that simple. We had nearly 14 years proof of that, didn't we?"
"The real answer is education and better control. In fact, the responsible members of the distilling industry are working constantly toward that end. They don't want anybody to abuse the use of their product any more than the three of us do."
"If everybody would take that sensible attitude, folks, and cooperate as men and more are now doing, we'd be a lot better off a lot quicker."

sand ears if it can find outlets. WFA is reported as paying the $3 support price for 100 ears.

A new OPA retail pricing plan is bringing about a material reduction in the retail prices of fresh vegetables which have been high all winter, according to information given by E. W. Lins, chairman of the Florida Vegetable Committee, by OPA officials.

Under the new procedure, all produce is priced on a pound basis, a specific cents-per-pound mark-up being allowed each retailer, with independent stores being allowed a larger mark-up than the large chains. The mark-ups are re-figured weekly to keep them in line with whole sale prices.

Commodities priced to date are snap beans, cucumbers (except hothouse), peas, spinach, carrots, eggplant and sweet potatoes.

OPA contends that materially lower retail prices will result, consumption will increase and the producer benefit by increased demand. Florida producers hope this will be true.

plumbing salesman and a lawyer from Ft. Lauderdale who is preaching his record in the Legislature and one pre-Pearl Harbor father marine who doesn't let his public forget that he is a marine—one of a quarter-million. All these from the east coast, trying to sell the counties of the middle of the district and the west coast that each is the best.

Lennie Stuckey, catfish skinner de luxe, farmer and business man of the Glades, is trying to tell them all that he, being from the middle of the district, can see both ways, east and west, while caring for the farmers of the district.

The sheriff's race has three contenders, one from the Glades who is gathering in the votes of those who are at a loss to know why the sheriff's job should perpetually be fought over by two factions, with the knowledge that he will go out of the Glades overwhelmingly ahead. The fourth candidate has enjoyed his contacts, we hope.

The Canal Point newspaper editor is looking anxious at the job held by Doyle Crocker and is politicking for it.

Dick, the farmer and columnist, is trying to be sure that Elliott continues his ranching and car selling without worry as a legislator.

Herbert Beck is out to show two West Palm Beach lawyers that he has a strong hold on the voters of the County for the job as Judge of the Circuit Court.

The job of constable has three contenders and that of Justice two, and some hot politicking is going on for these jobs.

We are for more and better political races, especially when all the candidates have money to spend on ads.

FIGHT AND WRITE

has now been exchanged for English pounds and shillings so we go around with our pockets jingling with expense. The fellows have found they couldn't buy very much with their money so now they shoot crap for toilet paper instead of money. No one will take American money, so it is worthless here unless you have a large amount to have the foreign office exchange it for you.

"There is a tea room on the post where I go every evening for a cup of tea and crumpets. The tea is very good but the crumpets, various sweet pastries, are made without very much sugar in them, so they are not so good. The tea only costs one penny English, a little over two cents in American money. I went to the Pub here on the Post and had a few glasses of bitters last night. They were out of ale. The bitters tastes a little like beer only it has a far better taste and is not near as bitter as the beer they sell in the States now."

"Everyone rides bicycles here. Already several of the fellows have bought them and have a lot of fun with them. A good second-hand bike costs about 12 to 15 pounds but the fellows bought some that were pretty old and only paid about six pounds for them. Of course these are not like those in the States with balloon tires and chrome and wheel brakes, but they get you around, and there is almost no transportation for distances for less than five miles. You don't have to go any distance, however, to find a town, as all the towns are just a mile or two apart and houses in between towns. By the way, a pound is worth about four dollars. We are fed pretty well here, but of course no fresh milk or eggs or vegetables and the meat looks and smells strangely 'say it was horse meat, but I'll like horses at times. I wouldn't, bet it never mood."

A MESSAGE TO MY FRIENDS

NOBODY ASKED ME to run for Representative, Group 1. I made up my own mind that I wanted to represent the people of Palm Beach County. I filed for just one reason—BECAUSE I WANT TO CONTINUE A JOB I HELPED START, THE DEVELOPMENT OF PALM BEACH COUNTY!

- I introduced the bill to create the Everglades Experimental Station at Belle Glade.
- I introduced the first Workmen's Compensation bill in the Florida Legislature.

HERE IS MY RECORD!

30 YEARS OF SERVICE AND EXPERIENCE
West Palm Beach City Commissioner..... 1907
West Palm Beach City Police Officer..... 1910
Palm Beach County Tax Collector 1911-20 & 1932-36
Vice Pres. Farmers Bank & Trust Co..... 1913-1924
Delegate to confer with Board of Internal Improvement at Tallahassee which secured approval of West Palm Beach Canal..... 1915
President West Palm Beach Chamber of Commerce..... 1916
Florida State Senator 13th Senatorial District 1921-25
Manager Palm Beach County Agricultural Exposition..... 1937

HERE IS MY PLATFORM!

I will work in harmony with County and State officials to secure definite, down-to-earth progress for this part of Florida. The opportunities are unlimited.

1.—AN INTERLOCKING HIGHWAY AND LATERAL ROAD SYSTEM which will continue the development of the Everglades, opening up to farming and ranching thousands of acres more of the Richest Land on Earth!

2.—DEVELOPMENT OF FARMING AND RANCHING by fighting for a square deal on the price structure for the Everglades and coast farmers, and pledging my support to all measures which will aid these two vital industries. I KNOW the problems of the farmer and the rancher.

3.—DEVELOPMENT OF PALM BEACH COUNTY'S TOURIST TRADE! I want to help foster plans NOW for a State-sponsored program of development and advertising that will bring to South Florida thousands of new tourists annually and I want to sell these tourists the idea of becoming PERMANENT RESIDENTS in Palm Beach County.

4.—I stand for immediate enactment of a Florida old age pension law to provide money to match available Federal funds for the aged.

In his last week of campaigning for the office of supervisor of registration, Howard Jones said that he could not have asked for a kinder reception by the general public.

Having been given the necessary time in which to seek the office by the City of Lake Worth, where he is plumbing inspector, Mr. Jones visited with thousands of county voters personally.

"From the courteous manner in which I was received," he said, "I am assured that my announced courtesy in office is an expectation of the people doing business there."

far as may be needed, incorporate them in this office."

Mr. Jones has been a resident of Palm Beach County for 42 years. He was born in West Palm Beach of pioneer parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Jones. His father was a building contractor, and Howard attended studies at both the old school house at Dixie and Clematis, and then at the new Palm Beach High School. Since his school days he has been connected with the plumbing industry. He married Miss Wilma Horeman, Lake Worth, where they own their home at 420 North K St.

J. Alex Arnette in seeking re-election as Clerk of the Circuit Court of Palm Beach County calls attention to the fact that he has been a resident of this County for more than 25 years. Before taking office as Clerk of the Circuit Court in 1931, he was prominently identified in business circles in Palm Beach County. For many years he has been prominent in civic affairs, having been one of the organizers of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1929, serving as its president. He is past president of the Senior Chamber of Commerce, past president of the Kiwanis Club, West Palm Beach Fishing Club and past chairman of the West Palm Beach Recreation Commission. He is a World War I veteran, having been a member of Palm Beach Post No. 12 since its organization, and also an active worker in the Palm Beach County Red Cross Chapter for many years. He is also Past Exalted Ruler of the West Palm Beach Lodge No. 1532, Order of Elks, having been Exalted Ruler for the past year.

In seeking re-election he cites his reputation as a resident of this County for more than 25 years and his record in office during this term as a platform. His record in office is a wide open book and he invites the public to scrutinize his record. He has operated the office in strict conformity with the laws of the State of Florida governing same and since taking office he has served as agent for the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund and has handled the sale of land belonging to the State of Florida under the rules and regulations adopted by the Attorney General of the State of Florida, and supervised by the State Auditing Department. All Clerks of the Circuit Courts of the 67 Counties in Florida are operating on the same basis and have been since these rules were issued in 1939. The Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund, Attorney General and State Auditor are the constituted authority of the State and clothed with the authority to make such rules and regulations as they deem fit and supervise the sale of these lands. He states that he will continue to operate under such rules and directions as may be prescribed by the constituted authorities.

In handling the sale of these properties and also those of the Everglades Drainage District he has at all times had in mind the property owners and taxpayers and has at all times protected their interest.

He also states courteous efficient service to all will always prevail as long as he is Clerk of the Circuit Court.

DEVOTE THE RESOURCES OF FLORIDA TO THE WINNING OF THE WAR!

Every unnecessary day the war lasts is another day before our service men and women can come home.

Millard Caldwell has the energy and ability to make the office of Governor of Florida really effective in the war effort.

He is also a veteran of World War I. He thus understands the problems that will confront our returning veterans. As Governor he will be well-qualified to solve these vital postwar problems, including the need for immediate jobs for returned service men and women.

PEDESTRIAN SAFETY STRESSED—Governor Spessard L. Holland, right, approves new safety posters prepared by the Safety Department of Public Safety. Director J. J. Gilliam of the safety department is at the left and Lt. Olin Hill, executive officer, is in the center. The posters will be displayed along highways and in cities to stress pedestrian safety and safe driving.

Tallahassee—The State Department of Public Safety, reporting automobile collision deaths have been cut 38 percent since 1941, has launched a special campaign urging pedestrians to watch carefully before they walk into highways or streets.

In every city and along the highways, the department has posted "three W" signs—"Watch While Walking," and "Help Win the War" by observing 35-mile per hour request, saving lives, gas and tires.

"This campaign has been launched to reduce the pedestrian and other traffic death toll," said J. J. Gilliam, director of the department of public safety. Governor Spessard L. Holland approved the safety placards and commended the safety department for its educational campaign.

Figures compiled by the state highway patrol showed 480 persons were killed in traffic accidents last year, and 160 of these were pedestrians. Fifty-eight pedestrians have been killed in the first three months of this year. Sixteen pedestrians were killed in March.

"Most of these pedestrian fatalities resulted because the pedestrian did not exercise caution before walking into a street or highway," Gilliam said. "We hope that these signs being placed throughout the state will impress upon pedestrians and motorists that they must be careful." City police departments have cooperated in the campaign by assigning traffic policemen to place the safety signs in store windows and on light standards and at street intersections. Highway patrolmen have distributed them along the highways.

The safety department has conducted safety campaigns since it was established by the legislature. In that time, the traffic toll in Florida has been reduced from an annual figure of 750 to less than 500 a year.

HERE IS HOW WE WILL VOTE FOR STATE SCHOOL SUPT.

(Reprinted From St. Petersburg Times.)

On his record Colin English should be re-elected state school superintendent.

He is an excellent and efficient administrator. Florida's school book purchases, for instance, are on the cheapest unit basis in the South. Every school bond default has been corrected, and brilliant refunds effected by the activity of his finance men. Superintendent English has put all but the most insolvent counties school budgets on a "pay-as-you-go basis" while reducing bonded debt about 25 per cent. Ad valorem school taxes have been generally reduced while accumulating building funds in most counties for future betterments.

English recognizes that sound financial management is essential to a healthy school system, but this alone is not the test. His foresight in stimulating vocational training paid huge dividends when war dramatized our shortage of trained manpower. War also found Florida schools so flexible that thousands of adults could be trained with night refresher courses.

Recognizing the needs of children at all times and particularly in wartime, Colin English has prompted the establishment of 97 nursery schools and 23 centers for school age children, as well as the development of programs for teen-age groups, both in and out of school. In co-operation with PTA and other interested groups, English has developed state plans for insuring adequate lunches for all school children; he has stimulated the development of adequate library facilities in elementary and secondary schools. Under this leadership instruction has been adjusted to meet wartime needs, stressing physical fitness, mathematics fundamentals, and citizenship training. Provision has been made for professional development of teachers in wartime. Particularly in service training programs through supervisory and for emergency teachers.

Miss Trammell, who opposes him for the office, is a very fine woman, who has been active and successful in Duval county school work. The fact that she has not had, in our opinion, sufficient experience in administrative work, to rank her as a serious challenger of the much more experienced Colin English, is on record. She doubtless will receive a very handsome complimentary vote in Duval county, an honor that her fearless and tireless work there has earned. Miss Trammell, incidentally, is a member of a famous Florida family that has furnished a governor, a U. S. Senator and a judge.

WOMEN RADIOHAMS WANTED SPARS

The U. S. Coast Guard is seeking qualified SPARS and applicants for enlistment in the Women's Reserve for special training courses leading to the rating of radio technician, Lieut. (jg) Dorothy Whitley, district recruiting officer, announced Monday.

This is a new, specialized field for members of the Coast Guard Women's Reserve. Lieut. Whitley said. The training includes a pre-radio course, a subsequent primary course and, for women who successfully complete the primary course, an advanced course in radio maintenance, including special equipment. All women selected must first complete the regular six-week recruiting training at the Palm Beach training station. Manual dexterity is required of SPARS who would qualify for the radio technicians training. Experience in the operation of "ham" radio sets is helpful. Information about the program may be obtained from the Coast Guard recruiting office, 90 N. E. 2nd Ave., Miami, and, before May 1, in the Main Mail Building, Orlando; or the Wallace S. Building, Tampa.
